

REGULAR GARDEN OF GIRLS BANQUET AT M. E. CHURCH

Rollcall Answered by Groups of Pupils From High School, Intermediate, Occidental College and Classes From Churches; Also Business Representatives

MRS. NETH GAVE PRACTICAL TALK ON JONAH

Next Supper Will Be Held Next Friday Evening—Last Rally
Supper—Marched in Body to Tabernacle—Advised to Take Their Mothers Into Confidence

A regular garden of girls, and most of them in the rosebud stage, was to be seen in the banquet hall at the First Methodist Church Tuesday evening. Knowing that many would come, the committee of arrangements had set places for 240; but, bless your heart, that wasn't nearly enough. Straightway the janitor had to be called to set up more tables, and by the time all were seated 325 plates had been distributed. Best of all, the supper (which the girls pronounced all right in a rousing yell) held out to the last, and when late comers departed a discussion was on as to what could be done with the abundance left over. Mrs. Neth announced that the next and last rally supper would be held Friday night.

There was a roll call of groups to which girls from the high school, girls from Intermediate, from Occidental, classes from the Presbyterian, Christian and Baptist churches, girls representing the Harrow Laboratory, Walker's Home Made Candy, First National Bank, Glendale Press, city hall, and Ford Agency, and punctuating almost every interval was a yell, led by freshmen of Glendale high or the yell teams of the Christian Endeavor. Mrs. Neth introduced her friend Mrs. Norvell, who has been engaged in soliciting for famine sufferers and has just sent off $70,000 to the cause, and Mrs. Norvell pronounced the blessing after the doxology had been sung.

Before the supper ended Mrs. Neth confided the fact that at the close of the evangelistic season in July or August she is coming to Los Angeles to remain and establish a girls' club called "The Corner Club," whose motto will be "winning the other girl." Jonah and the effects of disobedience to the call of the Lord was the theme of a practical talk in which she pleaded with the girls to follow their higher impulses and be obedient to their mothers and the laws of righteousness. She warned of the pitfalls that are spread for girls everywhere and told several pathetic stories of girls of her acquaintance who had fallen by the way. Her last injunction was: "You girls go home and make a confidant of your mothers." Mrs. Neth also announced that Sunday afternoon she would address women and girls in the auditorium of the First Methodist church at 2:30 p. m.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF AMERICAN LEGION

In accordance with their plans to provide some form of pleasure and entertainment each week to the disabled soldiers of the late war who are being treated at the Thurnycroft hospital, the ladies of the Auxiliary are doing a service that should receive the support of everyone.

Regardless of the excellence of the treatment that the men receive at the hospital, time is certain to weigh heavily on their hands, and the men grasp eagerly at every opportunity to break the monotony of the long days.

This week, Mrs. Pearl Keller Brattain of the Pearl Keller School and Mrs. George E. Clayton of 200 East Orange street are entertaining the boys by taking them to the performance of "The Little Princess," which will be given at the Palace Grand theater on Friday of this week. Mrs. Clayton has charge of the transporting of the boys to and from the theater and Mrs. Brattain has reserved seats for all of the boys who can attend the performance.

Each week the Auxiliary will furnish some different form of pleasure for the men and as this is a service that we all should take pride in helping along, when the ladies of the Auxiliary find it necessary to appeal to you for assistance, they confidently expect to receive a willing and ready response.

BROADWAY NEGLECTED

Committee Appointed to Investigate Proposed Joint Military Pageant

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce held their usual weekly luncheon in the bungalow of the domestic science department of the high school Tuesday noon, and in the absence of the president and two vice-presidents, Richardson D. White was asked to preside. The rollcall showed an attendance of G. M. Bentley, Owen Emery, Peter L. Ferry, David L. Gregg, Roy L. Kent, D. L. Lusby, S. C. Parker, R. D. White and Secretary Rhoades. The committee on public utilities, through its secretary, Robert Plume, submitted a report which was accepted and ordered sent to the city manager, to be brought by him to the attention of the city trustees. It recommended the improvement of Broadway through Central avenue and that the city manager be requested to make a survey and estimate of cost. It recommended that the assessment district be made to cover a large area.

The report of the advertising committee recommending the publication of a Glendale booklet, was verbally submitted by Secretary Rhoades, who was instructed to have the booklet printed.

The secretary also reported that Messrs. Gregg and Kent, named at the last meeting to consider the appointment of a membership secretary, had endorsed the employment of A. R. Chappell, and the board concurred in the endorsement.

Applications for membership on which the board voted, included the Elite Sweet Shop, George W. Biggins.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS MEET

Spanish war veterans from every camp in California, many of them veterans of the world war as well, their breasts covered with campaign medals and other decorations that tell of service rendered their country in foreign lands, are assembled in Long Beach for the 18th annual state encampment of the department of California.

An unusually large attendance marked the proceedings of the big meet, which began Monday morning and closes with this afternoon's session.

Of more than ordinary interest are the purposes of two resolutions filed with the committee on resolutions, one urging congress to pass legislation prohibiting profiteering in munitions of war, the other urging that congress make prompt and effective provisions for the relief of disabled ex-service men, thus doing away with the humiliating necessity of having those who sacrificed health and strength in the cause of their country dependent upon the aid of private organizations.

Sight-seeing trips, a banquet at Hotel Virginia and other entertainment features are provided by the Long Beach hosts, McKinley Camp and Ida Saxton McKinley Auxiliary.

VISITS GLENDALE AFTER MANY YEARS

G. H. Chilcote Tells of Calling on High School When First Established

G. H. Chilcote was a visitor Tuesday at Glendale High and found it a most interesting experience, as it is the first time he has seen the school since he visited it 15 years ago. At that time its sessions were held in a hotel building, which afterward became the Glendale Sanitarium. Mr. Chilcote and Miss Edwards were the teaching staff, and they had under their instruction about 20 pupils. Principal Chilcote's record he considers a remarkable one, not to be duplicated in the whole state of California for ten years of position and for having built a school from nothing to one of the largest, most important schools in the state. He seemed to be greatly impressed with the beauty and prosperity of Glendale.

MAJOR-GENERAL WOOD HONORED

(By International News Service)
MANILA, May 4.—High honors were paid Major General Leonard Wood upon his arrival here today with W. Cameron Forbes, former governor-general of the Philippines, on board the transport Warren.

When the big naval vessel steamed into the harbor a 17-gun salute boomed forth from the forts and naval vessels in the harbor. Admiral Strauss, commanding the Asiatic fleet; General Kernan and Charles E. Yeater, governor of the islands, each accompanied by an aide, boarded the transport to the breakwaters to greet the emissary of President Harding and his party. A large crowd gathered at the pier, but admission was only by card.

The pier was gaily decorated and as General Wood stepped ashore between the ranks of a company of infantry presenting arms the constabulary band played the Star Spangled Banner.

After being tendered the courtesy of the port, escorted by the Thirty-first infantry, the party proceeded in automobiles to Malacanang, palace, which will be their headquarters during their stay here.

Both General Wood and Forbes will rank as governor generals while here.

BOSTON, May 4.—More than 2,000 short lobsters shipped here illegally from Nova Scotia are being seized every week by the state division of fisheries and game and are being distributed along the shores of Massachusetts Bay, to be caught by lobstermen when they attain the legal length of nine inches.

Chief Warden Orrin C. Bourne directs the activities of eight wardens every Wednesday and Saturday when the Nova Scotia boats come in.

"HOME ECONOMICS" THEME OF P. T. A.

"Home Economics" was the theme of the meeting of the Doran street Parent-Teacher Association this afternoon.

Each member was asked to bring to the discussion some helpful economic suggestion, which she has tested in her own home.

Plans for a school picnic were also scheduled for today's program.

PROSPERITY IN CALIFORNIA NOT EXCEEDED, SAYS YOST

Says New York Bankers Have the Whole World Charted and Know Where Every Dollar Is Located—Chicago
Now Spending Large Sums to Beautify City

HAS PENCHANT FOR STUDYING LARGE CITIES

Claims Tourist Trade and Motion Picture Industry Partly Responsible for Prosperous Condition in This Part of State—New York Envis California

Robert M. Yost of this city, whose business as the representative of the Fox Film Company requires him to be quite a transcontinental traveler, who has had considerable opportunity to indulge his penchant for studying cities and their trend, says that Chicago has at last waked up to the fact that she is big, overgrown and ugly and is now spending millions to become beautiful, to make herself remembered by her boulevards and parks, her palaces of art and music rather than her stockyards.

He also says that New York, while not exactly jealous of California, fears it because she has lost to California so large a proportion of her best, most substantial citizenship, and because such a tide of wealth is flowing this way. The Californian who does not want to get himself disliked when addressing New York business men, must steer clear of California as a theme.

When asked his opinion of the prosperity of California as compared with the rest of the country, and whether he thought it a bubble that would soon break, he said:

"California is safe. Those big banks in New York have the world charted, financially. They know where every dollar in the world is located. Their charts show that California is not only the most prosperous spot in America but the most prosperous spot in all the world."

He pointed out several factors that have contributed to this fortunate situation. The depression that struck the east, for example, would normally have reached here about seven months later, but by that time the tourist tide with its abundance of money to spend was on, and so we experienced no setback. The fact that we have few large factories to shut down and create an unemployment problem, and the sustaining influence of the motion picture industry, were also mentioned.

MRS. PEARL KELLER REMEMBERS HEROES

Busy as she is with plans and rehearsals for "The Little Princess," the play which her students will present at the Palace Grand on Friday afternoon and evening, Pearl Keller has found time to remember the boys at Thurnycroft, who gave more than lives to their country when they gave their health and strength and must now languish in a sanitarium.

Miss Keller has invited every Thurnycroft boy to be her guest at the matinee on Friday afternoon. More than that, she has made arrangements for automobiles to bring them to the theater and back.

Mrs. George Clayton has charge of the transportation of the boys.

MUSIC SECTION MEETING

The music section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club is to meet Friday, the 6th, at the home of Mrs. Calvin Whiting, where a program of Russian music will be given. Mrs. Robert Yost will contribute vocal solos, and Mrs. Dorothy Armstrong Welcome, violin solos.

Rev. John Brown Declares That if He Was Going to Hell
He'd Go On His Own Hook—Making Excuses
Dates to Time Adam Blamed Eve

The girls who came to the Tabernacle for the evening service following their big rally at the First Methodist Church, and the Bible Institute Glee Club contributed much to the program of the Brown meeting last night. The former, 365 strong, made up the largest delegation of its kind, according to John Brown's statement, that he had known in all his career as an evangelist. They gave their yells, including one for Brown and one for Mother Neff; then asked the privilege of singing "Thirty-one" all by themselves, and the way they made it ring certainly "Brightened the Corner" where they were. The Glee Club of the Bible Institute, 13 strong, led by their beloved director, Mr. Trowbridge, contributed two most enjoyable numbers.

Rev. Brown announced with the greatest satisfaction that the budget had been entirely cleaned up Sunday night, thus establishing another record for Glendale.

Another guest last night was Mrs. Norville from the China mission field, who was formerly a member of the Brown evangelistic party.

After His Cross, the evangelist announced his theme: "Excuses." He read as a basis Luke 14, from the 16th verse on, and his text was: "And

FORD AGENCY WILL HAVE NEW BUILDING

The long-pending negotiations for a big building to house the Ford Agency as conducted by Jesse Smith are said to have been concluded by the execution of a long-time lease for a building to be erected by William Russell on the northeast corner of Orange and Colorado boulevard. It will include a large garage and adequate showrooms. A survey of the ground was made yesterday, and it is expected actual work on the building will soon start.

BOY ELECTROCUTED; FALLS INTO RIVER

(By International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Ore., May 4.—Authorities are dragging the Willamette river near here today for the body of Edwin Jensen, 12, who was electrocuted and fell into the river yesterday when his steel fishing rod came in contact with a live wire while he was fishing from a bridge. Young Jensen and another boy were on the bridge together when 60,000 volts from the high tension wire passed through Jensen's body and he fell 150 feet into the water. Two farmers nearby also witnessed the accident.

MRS. NEALE LEARNS TO HANDLE FISH LINE

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Neale took a day off yesterday and went to Huntington Beach, to fish. It was Mrs. Neale's first experience with a hook and line, but a most encouraging one, as she caught 30 of the 95 toothsome shiners the twin brought home and which they distributed among their friends. Mr. Neale reports that they ranged from 8 to 12 inches in length, and that the biggest one—which he is sure weighed 25 pounds—was lost.

HOSTESS AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Cramer, 228 South Louise street, were hosts one evening recently to a group of friends at a three-course, 7 o'clock dinner in honor of Mrs. J. T. Allen and Mrs. Orville Thomas of Peoria, Ill.

Roses from Mrs. Cramer's own garden centered the dinner-table, about which were grouped a number of old friends, most of them former residents of Peoria.

The evening was spent in congenial conversation and reminiscences such as are possible only to old friends. Mrs. Thomas has begun her homeward journey, and Mrs. Allen will start for home next Monday to wind up her business affairs there that she may return to California to make her home here. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas own a fine orange-ranch near Redding, where they expect to live some day.

The Sewer System for Glendale to Be Solved

General Plan of Sewage Disposal for Entire City Now Being Worked Out by Sanitary Engineers—Four Methods
Being Considered—Estimated Cost

A great many people are inquiring as to what is being done in regard to a sewage disposal system for the City of Glendale. The fact that Glendale has reached a population of nearly 20,000 and has no general sewer system is a great surprise to the new people that are rapidly establishing their residences in Glendale and, of course, it is natural that they should ask why this unusual situation and to inquire as to the reasons for this apparent neglect on the part of those who have responsibility for such matters and also to inquire as to what steps are being taken to provide sewage disposal for the city. These are questions upon which all the citizens of Glendale should have such information as may be placed at their disposal. To the end that the people of Glendale may be informed as to what the present situation is in regard to this matter and as to what is being done to solve the problem of sewage disposal for Glendale the following statement is issued:

Notwithstanding the fact that Glendale has no sewer system and that sewage is taken care of by cesspools located on the private premises there is nevertheless no unsanitary condition in the city of Glendale at the present time by reason of that fact. Individual cesspools have and there fall to care for all the sewage at the premises they serve and have to be supplemented them. These matters are incidental, however, and are taken care of promptly when the necessity therefor is reported.

Larger Volume of Sewage
The nearest approach to any unsanitary condition by reason of the disposal of sewage in cesspools will be found in the main business center, rebuilt or other cesspools constructed

JUDGE LANDIS BRANDS REPORT AS UNTRUE

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 4.—Judge Kenneth M. Landis, of the United States district court, today branded as untrue the report that he had resigned from the federal bench to give all of his time to his duties as high commissioner of organized baseball.

"This report has been coming up every week," said Judge Landis. "Each week I have been forced to deny it. When I get ready to resign—if I ever do resign—I shall call in the newspapers and tell them about it. The present report is without foundation."

JOYOUS OUTINGS
OF GLENDALE BOYS

Boys of Intermediate are to have a swimming party at Brookside Park Thursday afternoon. They will be accompanied by Coach Whytock.

Friday evening, May 13, a big party of boys will be taken for a mountain hike by Athletic Director Blanford and Secretary Rex Kelley. As it will be quite a hard stunt the boys will be sent home as soon as school closes to get all the sleep they can before the party boards a big truck at 10:30 to take them to the foot of the Mount Wilson trail. As soon as they reach the top they will be taken to the observatory for a look through the telescope at the heavens and a talk on astronomy by the professor in charge.

Prof. Alfred Cookman is expected to be of the party and to instruct the boys about the birds they will see during the hike. At the top there will be games and a picnic. The schedule calls for a return about 11 a. m., with a stop en route for a swim in the Brookside pool, which will bring them home to Glendale about dark Saturday. It is probable that no boy will have to be asked twice to go to bed.

R. T. W. MEETS
WITH MRS. SUDLOW

The R. T. W. Class of the First Baptist church held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emma Sudlow at 212 East Garfield avenue, about 25 ladies being present. A very pleasing talk on the Bible was given by Mrs. Neth, and her charming personality gave her subject added interest. Mrs. Neth is one of the John E. Brown evangelistic party. A short business session was held following the program. Decorations consisted of large baskets of roses and sweet peas. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. The next meeting will be held June 7 at the home of Mrs. M. L. Russell at 322 Riverdale drive.

MANY GUESTS FROM OUR NEARBY CITIES

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Keleher of 528 North Louise street entertained a group of guests one evening recently with a party whose idea was unique and original. The 50 or more guests from Glendale, Pasadena, Hollywood, Santa Monica and Los Angeles came attired in sports clothes and the entertainment of the early evening hours consisted entirely of indoor sports games. Later in the evening dancing was indulged in, a three-piece orchestra furnishing the music. Punch was served during the evening and, after the dancing, a three-course buffet luncheon was served.

WEDDING BELLS
EYSTER-M'GABE

A very happy wedding took place last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Rev. R. W. Mottern, 211 North Adams street.

The contracting parties were Elmer W. Eyster, a wealthy real estate broker of Detroit, Mich., wintering in Glendale with relatives at 1204 1/2 South Maryland avenue, and Maudie E. McCabe, also of Michigan, wintering in Los Angeles. The couple had been intimately acquainted for a number of years in the Beaver state, before coming to California.

The home of Rev. and Mrs. Mottern was decorated most tastefully for the occasion with handsome white and pink roses.

Both the bride and groom were dressed in gray. The gown of the bride, of silver gray, was especially exquisite.

Mr. and Mrs. Eyster left this morning in their car for a trip up the state, touching at Yosemite, Oakland and San Francisco, to be gone two weeks. Upon their return they, with some relatives, will spend ten days in the beautiful Sierra Madre canyon, camping. Mr. and Mrs. Eyster will return to Detroit the first of June.

Mr. Eyster is very fond of Southern California. There is hardly an accessible spot to which he has not driven his Ford sedan since coming here, totaling over 8000 miles. Glendale has its most enticing attractions for both Mr. and Mrs. Eyster, so they hope in the near future to return to this delightful city of homes.

Rev. Mottern had the honor of performing the ceremony, and sent the happy couple on their way rejoicing.

"Sin of Excuse Making"
Depicted by Evangelist

Everybody, at some time or another, Christians and sinners, have made excuses. If I were to ask everyone in this congregation who has never committed this sin, to stand, not one of you would rise. It is a dangerous sin. When once you form the habit of seeking to evade responsibility it is almost sure to send you to a Christless grave.

"Every excuse is a lie in the face of the endless love of Christ, who died for you, and you dare to say you have the right to trample that love under foot."

Commenting on the excuses made by the three classes in the parable, the evangelist said:

"The same types of men who thus sought to evade responsibility are found in every meeting. One of the modern excuses is 'there are too many hypocrites in the church.' Another is 'I am afraid I couldn't hold out.' Still another is 'I am too wicked' and its opposite is 'I am as good as your church members anyhow,' but none of these will let you out. You are responsible for your own soul. You never go so far away in sin but

'STRAIGHT FROM PARIS'
AT GLENDALE THEATER

Shall wealth and social position be the test of a girl's worth? Is it what a girl has, or what a girl is, that decides her desirability as a wife? "Straight From Paris," seen at the Glendale Theater today for the last time, with a variety of sumptuous scenery and splendid costumes, is said to give the most convincing answer to this all-important question that a picture has yet presented. Clara Kimball Young is the star in the play, whose subject is the supreme test of love.

A reissue of the D. W. Griffith two-reel sensation, "The Battle of Elderbush Gulch," featuring May March and Lillian Gish; a Pathe review, a Rolin comedy and last, but not least, Madame Clement's organ number, "Till We Meet Again," are other worth-while features on today's program at the Glendale Theater.

BASEBALL CHATTER

By JACK VEIOCK
I. N. S. Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 4.—Though major league teams started the fourth week of their pennant races today, fandom must wait a while longer for a definite line of where the balance of power lies in the rival circuits.

So far the schedules have been taken up by sectional series. These games have developed a number of surprises and have shown eastern and western groups in both leagues to be pretty well balanced so far as first division prospects are concerned.

The complexion of the percentage tables will doubtless undergo some changes by the time the first big inter-sectional series are concluded. These series will start next Tuesday, May 10, with eastern American and western National league teams hitting the road for long tours through the rival halves of their circuits.

The showing of Washington and Detroit in the American league has been one of the features so far, while the comparatively poor showing of the Yankees and the inability of the St. Louis Browns to get started, has attracted no little comment.

Pittsburg, Brooklyn and New York have succeeded in living up to the expectations of National league partisans, the Pirates and Dodgers especially so. In contrast, the Cubs have been playing much better ball than was expected of them, while the St. Louis Cardinals have been a big disappointment to Mound City fans.

Rube Benton gave up but three hits pitching for the Giants against Boston. Kelly got a single in three times up.

The entire Detroit team battled hand against the Sox and smothered Kid Gleason's sharpshooters with a hit storm.

FIGHT FANS

(By International News Service)
SUMMIT, N. J., May 4.—Fred Welsh, ex-lightweight champion of the world, today has taken his step toward a comeback. Welsh stopped young Willie Jackson of Philadelphia in the eighth round of a bout that was scheduled for 12 rounds. He floored his opponent twice in the third round. Jack Dempsey refereed the bout.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 4.—Governor Edwards of New Jersey is expected to send a personal invitation to President Warren G. Harding and the members of his cabinet, to be his personal guests at the world's championship match between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier, here July 2. It was authoritatively learned today. The governor, who is an enthusiastic boxing devotee, considers the match the sporting event of the age. Providing national and international affairs are ironed out sufficiently to permit President Harding and his cabinet officers leaving the capital, the governor will be prepared to entertain them.

UNIQUE PARACHUTE STUNT

(By International News Service)
LONDON, May 4.—A double parachute descent has just been made by Major T. Orde Lees.

Taking two Guardian Angel parachutes with him in his airplane, he jumped with one of them from a height of 1500 feet. When about 1000 feet from the ground he cut himself free and began a new fall with the other, which opened after a drop of only 100 feet. Major Lees landed in the topmost branches of a tree.

ONE GOOD TURN DESERVES ANOTHER

(By International News Service)
AUBURN, Mo., May 4.—Enter the champion freak traders—George Meriwether and J. J. Myers.

Myers tired of conducting a general store here. He offered to sell his business to Meriwether for $1900. The stock invoice that amount.

"Won't take it that way," said Meriwether. "I'll give you two bits for each article in your store."

Myers thought of his big line of slate and lead pencils worth a cent apiece. Meriwether thought of automobile tires and such things.

"I'll go you," declares Myers. "I'm satisfied," he declared later when the freak invoice tabulated $1866.25.

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

By JOSEPHINE FRANCE

Business Methods in the Home

The young woman who steps from a well-managed business office into the open door of the new home which her husband has provided for her is more likely to enjoy the management of that home than her sister who has had no contact with the business world. Her keen mind will show her at once how she can apply the same methods to her household that she was expected to follow in her office tasks. She can almost without exception manage her housekeeping business on the same principles and by the same methods.

The average household combines the functions of the factory, the warehouse, the office and sometimes the farm, while its managers, husband and wife, are supposed to possess something of the qualifications of the business expert, the mechanic, the skilled artisan of a dozen trades, the educator, the priest and the physician. To think of running such an enterprise as the household without regard to business principles or practices is as absurd as to contemplate the management of any commercial plant without regard to economic principles or business methods of administration.

One reason why business has not entered the average household is probably because of the confusion of thought in relation to the terms "home" and "household." A sacred and sentimental value is attached to the word "home" that has caused many to feel that business of any kind must of necessity destroy such values if applied to the operation of the family household.

Housekeeping is a Business

"Home" expresses a spiritual atmosphere that necessarily is not dependent upon physical environment. One may live in a modern palace and still be without a home; while on the other hand, a modest cottage with a dearth of material values may be a veritable home.

"Household," however, represents the purely physical environment in which the spirit of the home may be expressed. It is true that many furniture or furnishings in themselves express neither spiritual values, emotions nor sentiments other than those with which the mind endows them.

To the household, then, we can and we must apply the cold logic of economics and the seemingly sordid principles of business, if we wish to maintain an efficient household.

Setting Up the Partnership

Husband and wife should consider themselves as entering upon a business venture. It is true that many partners grow into a relationship that approximates the highest type of friendship and sentiment, if not actually love, but in business, partners are not supposed to be swayed by sentiment in their relations to each other. Fair dealing, honesty, justice, service and business principles and practices are the foundation stones of every commercial enterprise that has attained honorable success. These, then, should be the principles upon which the business of the household should be conducted, while the tenderer sentiments and emotions should be reserved in expressing that intangible something we have so lovingly called the "home."

When a man and a woman marry the legal status of their individual property at once changes. Without knowing it, perhaps, they have entered a partnership that partially has taken out of their sole individual control the property they owned before marriage.

In assuming a marriage partnership, then, husband and wife should do exactly that which two business partners would do in opening up a new commercial enterprise. If either husband or wife owns real estate it at once should be transferred to the firm and held in joint tenancy, so that in the death of either party the survivor would be found in possession without the necessity of probate proceedings. In the same way, all stocks, bonds, mortgages and investments should be held in common, and all money and all income, including salaries, should be deposited in a joint bank account, that will permit either husband or wife to check upon it.

Household partnership must be based upon the fact, not assumption, that whatever salary or income may be earned or received by the husband, it already has been earned in part by the wife. In other words, the wife's work in the household, her education, her experience and her ability in that field of activity have made it possible for the husband to earn the income he enjoys.

Principles of Conducting

Having financed the business and ascertained their rights, under the law,

HOLD MAY FESTIVAL

NEXT SATURDAY

One of the features of the May festival to be given on Saturday afternoon and evening by the ladies of the Church of the Holy Family is a "popularity contest."

Friendly rivalry in this contest are Mrs. Frank Clark and Mrs. Frank Salmacia, and as each contestant has hosts of friends, the event promises to be an interesting one. Those who are friends of both ladies will be allowed to vote for both, since the object of both is to see which can bring in the most money for the building fund.

THE LAST STRAW

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, May 4.—Lloyds of London are noted for a willingness to take a chance on anything. But the theft of automobiles in Chicago, they say, is almost a sure thing and they refuse to be beaten.

Holders of Lloyds' automobile theft insurance policies in Chicago have been given 10 days' notice of cancellation of their policies.

"The experience of the underwriters on automobile business in Chicago has been such that they wish to terminate all of their liabilities on this class of business," agents of the company stated.

to the property and the business of the firm, partners usually agree upon at least a few definite principles and policies for the conduct of their business. Household partners should also determine certain principles upon which they wish to found their home and household. For instance, "What is to be our standard of living?" might be a pertinent question. "To what degree shall religion, education and culture be considered as factors in our partnership?" "Shall savings and the accumulation of money and property be our first purpose in life?" "Shall we pay cash, adopt the credit system, or buy on the installment plan?" "How much shall we save out of our income?" "Should we own or rent?" "What about life insurance?" These are only a few of the more vital principles that should be determined as early as possible in the marriage partnership. The fundamentals of life must first be agreed upon in such a partnership, before a well-worked-out household organization can be perfected.

Organizing the Household

Having provided for the financial and legal status of the family, and having accepted the principles upon which the household and home are to be conducted, the next step is organization. In business we find set hours for labor and a definite organization with very concrete and practical methods in the operation of the plant. In a partnership of two, sometimes one partner will have charge of the financial department, the raising of money, borrowing, banking, oversight of the books, and often assumes charge of the buying, while the other partner takes charge of the plant and the selling end.

Marketing and purchasing, laundry, general cleaning, renovating and sewing, baking and all similar processes should be carried on in a definite order and routine for the purpose of economy of labor, material and money. There is certain definite work to be done upon certain days of the week, and every housewife is entitled to express her preference as to how and when this work shall be done.

Health, Protection and Safety

All large corporations now employ physicians as preventive measures, that their employees may be kept in the best of health. Every housewife should be familiar with the ordinary principles of physiology. Equipped with this knowledge, a little study of diet and of problems, will solve many physical ills and lessen the professional bills. It is the part of wisdom to have a thorough medical examination of the family at least once a year. The dentist may need to be visited oftener.

Every merchant is covered by insurance. Be sure that your house or apartment is properly insured, and instruct your broker to call you up a week before your policy expires. If there is a mortgage on your property, be sure that a "mortgage clause" is attached to it, as a fire insurance policy covering mortgaged property, without such a clause, is questionable. If you have valuable furniture, rugs and pictures, be sure to have them insured. If possible, try to have a list of your property covered by such insurance attached to and made a part of the policy. Keep your policy and inventory somewhere outside your house.

A record should be kept of the amounts of all insurance, name of company, date taken out, premiums paid and date of expiration; with life insurance, record the date premiums are due.

Every family should maintain a safety-deposit box in some bank or trust company, in which should be kept all legal papers, such as deeds, wills, insurance, policies, mortgages and other valuable property. A fire-proof box or safe in the household is also desirable.

Best Home Environment

Every business enterprise represents certain definite factors that should be recognized in the business affairs of the household. In the order of their importance, then, we see they are: Financing the business; establishing the principles upon which it is to be conducted; organizing and operating the business.

Business methods and practices can and must be adapted to every household; and until such becomes the general instead of the exceptional practice the American household cannot assume or provide the best environment for the expression of that dearest and most sacred of all institutions—the American home.

B. P. O. E. PURCHASE

ELK STREET HOUSE

Glendale Lodge No. 1289, B. P. O. E. has purchased from W. W. Hunter the house and lot at 115 East Elk avenue, which is directly back of their clubhouse, and which adds to their present club grounds 80 feet on Elk avenue.

It is the ultimate purpose of the lodge to remove the house on this lot in order to make room for the building of an addition to their present quarters. This addition will contain an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1000, a gymnasium, a swimming pool, and other features, for the convenience and pleasure of members of the lodge.

For the present, however, the newly acquired property will remain as it is.

The sale was made through Ezra F. Parker, who generously waived his commission.

CENSUS STATISTICS OF GREAT INTEREST

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The number of foreign born whites entering the United States between 1910 and 1920 was the smallest during any decade since 1850, the census bureau announced today.

The 1920 census shows that the foreign born white population increased in 20 states and the District of Columbia and decreased in 28 states. The 1910 census showed an increase in this population in every state but five.

The total foreign born population in 1920 was 12,703,987, an increase of 2.7 per cent as compared with an increase of 30.7 per cent in 1910. New York has the largest number of foreign born whites of any state, there being 2,733,773 of this class of population in New York, an increase of 2 per cent over 1910.

MRS. FIFI STILLMAN ATTENDS HEARING

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 4.—Mrs. "Fifi" Potter Stillman, emerging from the seclusion she has maintained since the sensational Stillman divorce suit became public, suddenly appeared at the bar association today to attend the hearing before a referee in the suit brought by her millionaire husband, James A. Stillman, who yesterday resigned as president of the National City Bank. Mrs. Stillman, in light-hearted mood, despite sensational newspaper disclosures threatened by opposing counsel, nodded to a group of newspaper men and smiled as she entered the building.

BITTER FIGHT OVER COLOMBIAN TREATY

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Discord spreading among Republican senators since the bitter fight over the Colombian treaty was viewed at the capital today as having attained its crescendo in Senator Hiram Johnson's having blocked President Harding's nomination of David H. Blair, North Carolina Republican, for internal revenue commissioner.

Johnson's vitriolic attack upon Blair for having turned for President Harding at the Chicago convention last June, after being sent there as a delegate bound to support the Californian's presidential aspirations, was regarded by his Republican colleagues as heaping fresh fuel on the flames of dissension appearing in the Republican ranks.

"Standing up and sitting down," returned Sonny.

Sewer System for Glendale to Be Solved

This is caused mostly from the concentration of a larger volume of sewage at certain locations than the underground sewers will carry off from the cesspools in that vicinity.

Special conditions exist in the Verdugo canyon or Verdugo Woodlands district that would result in unsanitary conditions if it were attempted to dispose of sewage in that section by means of cesspools such as are used in other portions of the city. This is by reason of the fact that a portion of the city's water supply is derived from that section. For that reason that portion of the floor of Verdugo canyon upon which the water rises and is collected for domestic use has been included in a district in which sewage disposal by cesspools is prohibited.

Three Specific Lines

With the above conditions before us the efforts of the city to solve the sewer problem are being directed along three specific lines, namely: General disposal for the entire city, temporary disposal for the business district, and disposal for Verdugo canyon. The working out of a general plan or method of sewage disposal for the entire city is now receiving the attention of sanitary engineers. These engineers have submitted a general report to the board of trustees containing a lot of general information on the subject and setting forth tentative plans for taking care of the sewage of the entire city. This report has been accepted by the board of trustees. The engineers have been paid $500 therefor in accordance with agreement. The plans submitted, however, have not been adopted. The board felt that these plans and possibly additional plans should have careful consideration before any plan was adopted. Accordingly the board has secured the services of a commission consisting of 12 citizens of Glendale consisting of the engineers with the sanitary engineers in the consideration of these and other plans that may be presented either by members of the commission or the engineers with the view of reporting to the board of trustees at the earliest time a plan with their recommendations. This plan is to be submitted late in the month of May and if approved thereby an election will be called to authorize funds therefor. This commission has been working faithfully since their appointment and it is confidently expected that they will report a feasible and practicable plan for sewage disposal to the board of trustees within one year from the date of their appointment. The matter of working out a general plan for sewage disposal for Glendale will not permit of haste and it would seem that one year's time is none too long a period for this commission to devote to the study of this important proposition.

Annexation a Mistake

There are those in our city who believe that this problem can only be solved by connection with the Los Angeles outfall sewer and that all Glendale has to do is to annex to Los Angeles and connect up and the problem is solved. That is a mistake. Pursuant to authorization by the board of trustees Frank Olmsted, W. E. Hewitt and myself investigated this very thoroughly and ascertained the following facts:

First. No relief could possibly be had by means of Los Angeles sewer system for at least three years inasmuch as that system will be overtaxed to take care of the Los Angeles sewage during that period.

Second. Before the Los Angeles sewers will be adequate to take care of the sewage of Los Angeles and before Glendale would be permitted to connect its sewer system thereto, a bond issue of $14,000,000 will be submitted to the voters of the city of Los Angeles and if these bonds are authorized it will require three years for the construction of trunk lines and disposal works contemplated thereby and then Glendale may connect if the conditions are met.

Would Cost $500,000

Third. The city of Glendale's proportionate part of the cost of these proposed disposal works including trunk line to connect with the Glendale system would be approximately one-half million dollars.

Fourth. In addition to paying its proportionate part of the cost the city of Glendale would be required to annex to the city of Los Angeles and thereby assume a portion of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the city of Los Angeles in accordance with the respective assessed valuation of the two cities.

The above is an outline of the steps city of Glendale in order to avail itself of sewage disposal by means of the sewer system of the city of Los Angeles. I am quite sure that our commission will give this careful consideration in their investigations and will compare it carefully with any other plan that they may have under consideration.

Great Waste Now

This should not be considered, however, as the only means of sewage disposal for Glendale. Experts who have reported to the Los Angeles chamber of commerce committee on sewers state that that city is now wasting $5000 worth of fertilizer, $150,000 worth of irrigation water and a valuable ammonia by-product yearly in running its sewage into the sea.

Large cities of the United States and Europe which have recently installed systems for the disposal of their sewage have given due consideration to the fertilizer value of the sewage, and have favored plants which extract the greatest amount of nitrate from it and at the same time eliminate objectionable odors.

Large Outlay Required

Inasmuch as it is going to require such a large outlay to carry the Glendale sewage to the ocean by means of Los Angeles sewage disposal system as now operated, and involve annexation as well, it would seem that the city of Glendale should give serious consideration to the development of some practical plan of local disposal that would permit of recovering all that there is in the sewage of commercial value. It is quite possible that such plan would cost less both for installation and operation than an outfall sewer to the ocean and that the cost of operation would be greatly reduced by the recovery and sale of solids and the water effluent. Our commission will no doubt give this method ample consideration.

Four Methods of Disposal

Generally speaking, there are four methods of sewage disposal used by cities of the United States: The outfall system, which wastes the entire amount of the sewage by pouring it into a body of water; the filtration system in which the sewage is run through beds of gravel; the treatment of the sewage in septic or Imhoff tanks, in which the water effluent is generally wasted into rivers, lakes or oceans, but is sometimes used for irrigation purposes; and the activated sludge system in which the sewage is treated in tanks, the heavy particles screened off, and air is forced through the liquid elements remaining, further salvaging solid particles for use as fertilizer. A greater amount of nitrate is recovered from sewage when the last-named system is used and it has been the experience of engineers in cities using the activated sludge system that the effluent, thus treated with air, has no objectionable odor.

General Sewage Disposal

It is certain that it is going to require considerable time to decide upon the best plan and method of general sewage disposal and that after plans have been decided upon additional time will be necessary for public discussion thereof for the authorization of bonds and the construction works called for thereby. In the meantime we have a condition in the business center that requires immediate attention. As stated before conditions are rapidly developing in the main business center as regards sewage disposal that will no doubt give us trouble in the near future. It is taken care of at once. Therefore it is planned to proceed immediately with the installation of a sewer system for six blocks in the main business center including three blocks on either side of Brand boulevard, north of Colorado in cities using the activated sludge system that the effluent, thus treated street. It is planned that this system be constructed as follows:

Plans for System

First. Sewer mains shall be placed in this district at a depth sufficient to take care of sewage from basements.

Second. All pipes shall be of standard specifications for sewer pipes and of sufficient capacity to take care of the ultimate needs of the district.

Third. Sewers shall be laid as one continuous system just as if no temporary disposal was planned so that ultimately the sewage of the district may be conveyed by this system to one point at the southwest corner of the district, namely, the intersection of Colorado and Orange streets, and from there taken to disposal works.

Fourth. Temporary disposal shall consist of units as follows:

Septic tank or settling basin of simple design, constructed very much in the manner of an ordinary cesspool with provision for carrying the effluent therefrom to cesspools located not less than 30 feet. Two cesspools to be constructed in connection with each septic tank or settling basin. Disposal units to be located on line of sewers at such intervals and locations as the volume of sewage to be cared for will require. Disposal units to be located directly adjacent to sewer mains and connected to sewers so that overflow therefrom if any, will turn to the sewer main and flow to next unit.

Estimated Cost

The cost of this improvement is estimated to be $25,000. Assessments will be on a basis of approximately $4 per front foot.

About 20 per cent of the cost of this system will be for the disposal units. These of course may be abandoned some time in the future when general disposal system is installed. The main portion of the improvement, however, will be constructed so as to form a part of the permanent sewage disposal system and will be adequate to take care of the district when it has reached its maximum growth. This should not be looked upon merely as a temporary expedient for the time being. It will constitute a permanent investment for the property holders within the district served thereby and will not have to be paid for a second time, neither will these property holders be called upon in the future to pay any part of like installations for any other portion of the city.

Not An Experiment

This system should not be looked upon as an experiment. There is nothing new or untried about it. It will solve the present difficulties in the business center by first, clarifying the sewage by removing a large portion of the solids and producing an effluent that will readily percolate through the underground gravels; second, the drainage area will be increased by locating the cesspools, that will be constructed in connection with each disposal unit at a sufficient distance apart to enable each cesspool to utilize to the best advantage the drainage area. At present one of the main difficulties arises from the fact that cesspools are located so close together that one interferes with the drainage of the other; third, control of the situation will be had by reason of the fact that it will be practically one unit permitting the adding of additional disposal units at any time the existing disposal units prove insufficient to care for the volume of sewage; fourth, the fact that the entire system is connected and can eventually be operated as one unit will permit later the establishment of a more complete purification and disposal plant at such time and location as future developments may warrant.

Ready in Few Days

It would not seem that the owners of the valuable property included in this rapidly developing business section could afford not to proceed immediately with plans as above outlined. These plans are being prepared and will be ready for legal proceedings within a few days. Petitions are being circulated in the district. We understand they are being signed quite generally by interested property holders. As to sewage disposal for the Verdugo canyon situation, definite progress is being made also. The people of that section have authorized the issuance of $50,000 of municipal district bonds with the understanding that $40,000 of that issue will be used for the construction of a trunk line

DAVIS WOULD GIVE STOWAWAYS CHANCE

When Secretary of Labor James J. Davis took two stowaway boys by the hand on Ellis island, the immigration station of the port of New York, and said, "Good-bye, boys, we may meet again," they did not know what it meant. The boys, with their head of the department of labor, are Kemal Menasset (left), a Turk, and Kyriakis Matras, a Greek. Both arrived in New York as stowaways aboard passenger vessels. In truth, the cabinet member had already made inquiry into the official records of these two stowaway boys, whose bright, intelligent faces and polite manners had caught his eye among a hundred other stowaways. Secretary Davis hopes to find a way to have them admitted and said he would be glad to take them out to Mooseheart, Ill., where they have nearly a thousand children of members of the Loyal Order of Moose.

that will extend through the entire district, carrying the sewage to a location well beyond the water bearing area and the $10,000 will be used for the construction of a suitable sewage disposal plant within the district that will connect with this trunk line which will be paid for by direct assessment on the property served. The disposal plant will be located several hundred feet south of the junction of Glendale avenue and Verdugo road. The well in this location is especially well adapted for disposal of sewage effluent after it has been clarified by means of septic tank or settling basins. This method can be employed successfully at that location to dispose of the sewage of the Verdugo canyon district until such time as a general sewage system may be installed. It is planned, however, to take advantage of the opportunity afforded in this connection to have constructed a complete sewage disposal unit on a small scale of the most modern design, one that will convert the solids into fertilizer and the effluent into a product of value for irrigation; this to be done without creating conditions that will be detrimental to the immediate vicinity. In fact the entire plant should be inclosed. There is no doubt that modern methods and means are at hand to carry the purification of sewage to such a point that the elements thereof may be disposed successfully as commercial products. And in connection with the installation of a sewage disposal system for the Verdugo canyon district, a splendid opportunity is afforded to install a plant, even though it be of small capacity, of the most modern design, that will accomplish these results. Possibly the activated sludge plants should be used.

Studio and Screen News

The Average Leading Man

The average leading man in motion pictures is the possessor of business brains. Not one of the leading men of any standing will consent to play a heavy role if by any possible effort on his part he can avoid it. They want to be known by fans as lovable, if, at time, unfortunate characters. They seek the silent applause and sympathy of the screen viewer. They contend that a heavy always has a despicable role—one that inspires hatred, disgust or contempt in the minds of the fans and that such a role is a bar to future success as a leading man or star. Take Jack Holt, for instance. This Paramount player will not step from the plane of a leading man for any consideration. His contract particularly specifies that he is to be cast for leading man roles and for no other.

Lila Lee "Coming Back"

Admirers of Lila Lee will be pleased to learn that she is rapidly being taken back into the hearts of the great majority. This is shown by the manner in which her fan mail is increasing and the many words of appreciation that are reaching her from almost every corner of the globe. Thrust into stardom without training or screen experience of any kind, Lila failed to live up to publicity claims and her screen glory soon was dimmed. A less sensible and determined maid would have sulked, blamed the pictures and her directors for her fluke and retired. She was the first to admit that she needed training and she has been getting it at the Lasky studio in Hollywood until now she has several very successful roles to her credit. It is possible that the time soon will arrive when the public will accept her as a star and applaud and admire her accordingly. But Lila herself is not thinking of stardom. All she wants now is work. She is the hardest worker among the females on the big studio lot and she constantly is striving to improve. "Nobody can keep a girl like Lila down," said a studio official, who is interested in her because of her evident desire to win out. "Her big chance will come, and when it does Lila will be ready for it."

"Measles Week" at Lasky

And pretty Betty Compton has been ill with the measles! For one whole week Betty had to remain home, petted and caressed and doctored, while the Lasky studio mourned. The principal mourning department is otherwise known as the treasurer's office. For without Betty production of "At the End of the World," her first Paramount starring picture, had to be suspended, but there was no way of suspending the expense. One big studio set remained unoccupied. Players, technicians, musicians, extras, etc., were relegated to the ranks of the idlers. Betty's measles cost the studio a small fortune, but the officials agree that Betty can have anything she wants and "hang the expense."

Mack Sennett has written another story for the screen. He calls it "Her Dream Man." He is also the author of "Molly-O," in which Mabel Normand is being starred. So well pleased is he with the story that he has commissioned one of his highbrow writers to novelize it.

Temperamental Doralinda

Doralinda, the dancer, who became known to picture fans by her work in Metro's "Passion Fruit," is to make the celluloid shake a wicked shiver once again. That is, she is to do the shivering while the camera looks on. For it has been announced that she soon will start production at the head of her own company and that the shooting will be done in Los Angeles. Doralinda is the possessor of a temperament of high voltage and as the head of her own company she can exhibit it without fear of directorial wrath. It is said here that during the filming of "Passion Fruit" it once was brought to a complete halt by Doralinda locking her cinematic horns with those of a very stubborn director. After the lapse of several days Doralinda decided that salary was much better than idleness and production of the picture was resumed.

Mack Swain with Chaplin

All picture fans will remember Mack Swain. For several years he was the hit of Mack Sennett comedies and as Ambrose he easily wore the crown for roughhouse mirth-making. Well, Mack has returned to the screen after months of oblivion and will hereafter be identified with Charlie Chaplin productions. In his new environment Swain will create a character, which, it is believed, will add laurels to his already large collection. He stands six feet four inches and weighs 340 pounds. He will be an admirable foil for the diminutive Charlie. His initial appearance will be in Chaplin's current picture, "Vanity Fair."

Bill Wrigley's now famous island, Catalina, off the Southern California coast, has been enlivened by the presence of Viola Dana and members of her company. Many scenes for the star's forthcoming Metro picture "Life's Darn Funny," were shot there. Eddie Polo will revive his characterization of Cyclone Smith in a series of two-reel photodramas.

JANE ADDAMS HAS GOOD WORD FOR GIRL

(By International News Service)

BOSTON, May 4.—Jane Addams, of Hull House and the world, came into town. And in a talk, about as soon as she had taken off her bonnet, she surveyed the globe and its problems. There's not a problem, according to Miss Addams, which may not be adjudicated if the wise minds and the kindly hearts of the world survey that problem with understanding and a calm desire for a solution. And this applied to all, from the problem of the unmarried mother to the problem of world disarmament, she said. Here are some of the bits of wisdom culled from her talk: "First of all, on the unmarried mother and the delinquent girl, we're all wrong," said Miss Addams, "when we claim that most of the girls who go wrong do so because they are feeble-minded. We were told that about ten years ago. But now we know that we made a very feeble mistake."

Finland Grants Equality

"The unmarried mother problem should be approached with intelligence and goodwill. The way they handle the problem in Finland is not so bad for other nations to consider. In Finland the child born out of wedlock shares equally with the child born within. That, in a very many cases, would prove a very serious deterrent. "We hear all about us the women are losing their old-time control; that they are going to the dogs. I, for one, do not see that this is any more so than ever. Undoubtedly the 14-year-old girl of today is a little over-excited by her unusual freedom. It's the times, not the girl, however, that is to blame."

Youthful Freedom

"The 15-year-old girl of today has more money, enjoys more power, than ever in the world before. Give the good little 15-year-old of generations ago the same power and the same wherewithal and you'd have the same unrestrained little lassie."

"But these are international problems which should fill the minds and hearts of us all until they are settled. The thing the world needs most is some intelligent, international understanding. This so trade can be resumed on a normal status. We in the United States have a plethora of goods to sell, and restricted markets to sell them in. Other questions which should be approached and settled are the Japanese question, the Russian question and the Irish question."

"In Ireland today we have two factions of young men keeping up a constant head-on collision. It seems impossible that two English-speaking sections cannot settle their troubles without all this great waste a present going on in Ireland."

Lift Russ Blockade

Here are some of the suggestions on international problems offered by the great American woman:

"That we lift the Russian blockade. "That we remove all restriction on trade anywhere, which has been made for political purposes."

"That we come to some definite action in regard to the league."

"That we reach decisions on the Russian and Japanese questions."
